Work Experience

10 Years of management of a student-centered program in higher education, the heart of which was advising students and creating programming for individual growth.

12 years of non-profit management, which developed from educational theatre. Helping young actors rise above their own expectations has inspired every decent thing I've every done. The rest is gravy.

What do you feel are your strengths?

I care about recovery. This is my second time around, and although I have only one day at a time, I know that in giving back, I keep my recovery strong. I know the power of someone bringing a NA (not the other fellowship!) into a place that needs it. And I have always been – professionally, artistically and personally someone who CARES about others, and creates safe environments where they can share and grow beyond expectations.

What do you feel are your weaknesses?

Quite frankly, my most damaging character defect is to FIX, MANAGE AND CONTROL. If given the chance to serve in this capacity, somebody better bop me on the head when I go from 'helping' to 'fixing.' Cause sometimes I don't know when I crossed the line. Of course, I have a great sponsor, and we're working on it. It's a defect, just like most addicts I've met.

What accomplishment(s) in your job, in service, and/or throughout your life are you most proud of?

I am most proud of when I see a light turn on behind a pair of eyes that had, until that moment, been blind to possibility. That instant when he or she go from confusion and pain into understanding. It is the common thread in everything I've ever tried to do. I want to keep doing that.

What do you believe you can bring to Area Service?

Area service? Let's see...I know it gets a bad wrap sometimes – sometimes deservedly so. Maybe because a bunch of addicts are in charge. Well, they all think they're in charge at the same time about the same thing. But has anyone found any other way to get things done? I've served at Area in North Chicago and East Atlanta, and to be honest there isn't much difference, 'cept Chicago doesn't do Group Reports. But it is our miraculous ability to – at the end of the day – make individual decisions and those collectively form GROUP CONSCIENCE. And that is a sacred thing. I don't know how we do it, but when that Conscience speaks we as individuals did not accomplish that task. It is still a mystery to me. So I'll keep coming back.

Why do you want to serve?

I've been given a rare opportunity by my disability. I can no longer work a full-time job. But I have no intention of giving up. I look upon it as a chance to do what I have always done, without the bureaucracy bit. Now I can give back as much as I can, and call it enough. I know my efforts will reward my own continuing-unto-the-grave path of recovery. I suspect I might just take a few people along for this happy journey away from darkness.

Education

List any skills, abilities, degrees, talents or training you have

I didn't need a higher degree in theatre, but it comes in handy when I have to conjure up a topic for a meeting on the spot. I also have a reputation for creative ways of doing things. It isn't to make me look better, I just think its fun to mix things up. I read quite well, and can put words together.

But there is something relevant to this position that I am proud of. I'm pursuing training in 'peer counseling' for both addicts and addicts who also have a mental diagnosis. That training is already informing my work with recovery.

Additional Comments

I believe in the work of Hospitals and Institutions. I believe that those who volunteer their time for this effort enhance their own recovery by sharing it. I believe the people we reach out to may, just this time, find a way out of active addiction and into a new life. I believe Narcotics Anonymous saved my life, more than one time. I believe this fellowship has something very special at its core, and when shared, it becomes all the more powerful.

I don't believe that Vic can save anyone. I don't believe in a mixed message during a Narcotics Anonymous meeting. I don't believe in one Higher Power competing against another person's Higher Power. I don't believe in gossip or contention or preaching. I don't believe anyone should choose your sponsor except you. I believe in 'active listening.' I don't believe that H&I can forget the importance of the Steps, Traditions or Concepts. I believe that any addict never has to use again, no matter what.

I believe in the potential for outreach to those in need in the East End Area. While sustaining our commitments, and with the help of other recovering addicts, it would be an honor to see our efforts grow.

Hi. I'm Vic, and I'm a grateful recovering addict in Narcotics Anonymous.
